

BEACHY WILL FLY AT COUNTY FAIR

World Famous Aviator Is Se- cured For An Exhibition In This City

The big attraction at the Oneida County Fair in this city, September 18 and 19, will be Lincoln Beachy, the world famous aviator, who will give exhibition flights in his Curtis bi-plane. This will easily be the greatest feature ever presented at a county fair in Northern Wisconsin and should draw hundreds of strangers to Rhinelander. Mr. Beachy will also appear at the Wisconsin State Fair at Milwaukee where he is billed as one of the headliners. Anyone who has taken an interest in air navigation has read or heard of Lincoln Beachy. The newspapers and magazines have devoted columns of space to this celebrated aviator. He at present holds the altitude record of the world and is one of the most daring and fearless birdmen in the country. In engaging Mr. Beachy the fair officials deserve credit for giving the public the best attraction that it is possible for money to obtain.

RAINS WERE HEAVY

Almost Five Days Of A Constant Down Pour

Rains last week caused the Wisconsin river and other streams in the vicinity of Merrill and Wausau to rise and there was much damage due to washouts. Trains were delayed and on some lines traffic was completely suspended for two days. Although it rained almost steadily in this city and county for nearly five days there was no loss due to water reported. Two or three dams along this part of the Wisconsin river were in danger of being washed away but were saved after hours of hard work. Trains running into this city on the Northwestern and Soo roads were not delayed on account of the rains. Such continual rains as those of last week have not been experienced in this section in several years.

PLEASANT CANOE TRIP

Harold Crosby, Ronald Reardon, John Duncan, Ed. Otten, George Merrill, E. G. Gallant and E. S. Shepard reached this city Sunday after a pleasant canoe trip down the Wisconsin river from Three Lakes. The party camped at spots along the way and had fine success catching fish, landing several big muskallonges. Five days were occupied in making the trip. E. S. Shepard, veteran woodsman and scout, had charge of the boys and entertained them in royal style.

FALLING LOG KILLS BOY

Gague Elliott Has Shocking Death At Pratt Junction

At Pratt Junction last Thursday Gague Elliott, a young man 19 years of age, was killed while unloading logs onto skids. He was pinned to the ground by one of the heavy timbers which rolled from the load and fell across his chest. The log was immediately removed from his body by fellow workmen after which the boy arose to his feet but fell down at once. Within ten minutes after the accident he was dead. No bones were broken but it is believed that his heart was injured by the severe blow.

AGAIN LANDLORD AT FULLER
Jack Anker is again landlord at the Hotel Fuller. He assumed charge of the business Monday and has obtained a one year's lease on the property. Jack is a first class hotel man and his friends among the traveling fraternity will be pleased to see him at his old post again.

FIRE AT ARLINGTON

Old Landmark Has Narrow Escape From Destruction

The Arlington Hotel, one of the city's old landmarks which has for the last six weeks been unoccupied, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire at 1:20 o'clock Sunday morning. Fire broke out in one of the bedrooms on the second floor of the building and only the timely arrival of the department prevented the flames from spreading. A lot of old mattresses and bed clothing were piled in the room and it was in these that the blaze started. Chief Cole, of the fire department, advances his opinion that the fire was due to spontaneous combustion. This is feasible as the hotel is kept securely locked and no one has been known to sleep there since it was vacated.

DEMAND REASONS FOR GETTING MAIL

Children Must Present Excuse To Postmaster at General Delivery

Rhinelander young people, and especially girls of minor age, who have been in the habit of receiving their mail at the general delivery window of the postoffice will hereafter be deprived of this privilege unless they furnish some good excuse why they should get mail in this manner. An order from Postmaster General Hitchcock instructs the local officials to insist in a written notice by prospective users of the window. These requests must have the name of the user and his address and specific reasons why it is necessary to receive mail in this manner. This does not include the traveling public it is understood. Minors are required to furnish the names and addresses of their parents as well as their own names. The general delivery windows were originally planned for transients and local people having no permanent address. In recent years the business of the window has grown very largely and a large part of it is known to be what is in postoffice circles as legitimate correspondence. Young girls, corresponding with men and not wishing their parents to know of it, have become a nuisance at postoffices throughout the country. Mere children send not through the mail to be called for at the general delivery window. The matter was brought to the attention of the authorities at Washington and after considering the matter the orders were issued.

SHOULD HAVE A SLOGAN

The Commercial Club of Crandon has offered a prize of five dollars for the best motto for Crandon. An appropriate slogan is a good advertisement for any city and it would not be a bad idea for the Advancement Association of this city to follow the plan adopted by the Crandon club. Rhinelander should have a slogan.

CARNIVAL LEAVES THE CITY SUNDAY

Wortham & Allen Shows Go To Sheboygan—Good Clean Attraction

The Wortham & Allen Carnival Company finished its week's engagement in Rhinelander Saturday night. Before ten o'clock Sunday forenoon the paraphernalia of the company had been loaded on the cars and the special train departed on its way to Sheboygan where the attraction is appearing this week.

Although the weather during the carnival was very unfavorable the management was not disappointed with the business done here. The various shows were well patronized between showers and while the afternoon business was small the attendance was satisfactory. The amusements which drew the largest crowds and made the most money were the Edwards' Animal Show, Buckskin Ben's Wild West, the horse show and the merry-go-round. These four concessions were liberally patronized and appeared to be the favorites among the people. The Wild West show is not controlled by the Wortham & Allen company but it is an independent concern.

D. D. Daly, promoter of the company, stated to the New North that despite the bad weather the company did a larger business in this city than that in Gladstone, Mich., the week previous.

From Sheboygan the shows will go to Milwaukee for an extended stay.

ANTIGO DEFEATS GASTON'S IDOLS

Score In Sixth Game Of Series Is 4 To 3 At Railroad City Sunday

By a score of 4 to 3 Gaston's battlers of this city were put into the clear by the Antigo base ball team at the railroad city Sunday afternoon. The game was played at the Donahue-Daniels ball park and was witnessed by a crowd of four hundred and fifty people. The teams were about evenly matched and the contest was one of the best ever witnessed at Antigo. Throughout the game the utmost excitement prevailed among the spectators.

Post of this city was engaged by Antigo to do the catching Sunday and to him is due a goodly share of the credit for the victory of that aggregation.

Foss of Toomahawk did the twirling for Rhinelander and his work on the mound made a tremendous hit with the fans. He struck out seven men.

Franke was in the box for the opposing nine and he pitched admirably well. In the ninth inning when the result was a tie he brought in the score that placed his team on the top of the heap.

A. E. King, the local pugilist, did the catching for the home team and considering the fact that it was his first appearance behind the bat he performed nicely.

Manager Gaston accepts the defeat of his nine in a graceful manner and has no complaints to offer.

EXTRA POLICEMEN

During carnival week several special policemen were on duty on the down town streets. This precaution was taken by Chief Straub in order to protect the public against crooks and the lawless element which is common with shows of this kind. The Wortham & Allen Company, however, proved a surprise to the officers as it tolerated no questionable characters or hangers-on. The police were given no trouble during the company's engagement here.

Julius Mueller Passes Away In This City Sunday

Julius Mueller, aged 67 years, died at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Herman Zander, on Frederick street. He had been ill one month with bronchial trouble.

Mr. Mueller was a native of Germany and before coming to Rhinelander nine years ago resided at Janesville. During his residence in this city he made a large list of friends and the announcement of his death is received with sorrow.

MOONSHINERS ARE BUSY NEAR HERE

Secret Stills Are Being Oper- ated In Woods Of Neigh- boring Counties

The Milwaukee Daily News is authority for the statement that moonshiners from the state of Kentucky are operating secret stills in the counties of Forest and Langlade.

Capt. J. B. McCoy, special revenue officer, says that a number of federal sleuths are scouting around among the hills and dales of the two counties trying to locate some stills which they feel sure are hidden in the recesses of the forest. It is three years since the moonshiners of Forest and Langlade counties gave the federal authorities any trouble, and the federal authorities were getting chummy. Thought they had wiped the illicit stills out of business for ever and a day.

Then, all of a sudden, a whisper came to their ears a couple of weeks ago that those tell-tale thin blue trails of smoke and pungent odors had been observed once more in the moonshine district, and that there were other evidences of "something doing."

Capt. McCoy has been anxiously awaiting for favorable reports from his gum-shod squad, but thus far the gum-shod squad has been completely baffled. They are on the job however, to do or die and will stick till they either locate the secret stills, and the merry rascals who operate them, or have run down every clue and found there's nothing to it.

"We have every reason to suspect that moonshining is going on in Langlade and Forest counties," said Capt. McCoy, "but thus far the revenue agents have not been able to locate any of the stills. But they will eventually be located. You can bank on that. It will take time, for moonshiners are about the foxiest set of lawbreakers in existence. And they have every natural advantage. It is both a difficult and a dangerous job to run them down, and cannot be done in a day or a week, nor yet a month, unless by some stroke of exceptionally good fortune."

WILL QUIT OFFICE

Major S. W. Campbell, the suspended Indian agent on the Odanah reservation, states that it will be easy for him to disprove the charges which have been made against him. He also declared that when he had proved the charges were positively false he would not enter into the duties of the office again under any condition.

C. D. BRONSON IS CALLED BY DEATH

Prominent Citizen and Busi- ness Man Expires Sud- denly Monday

Death has called another old and prominent resident of Rhinelander. Charles D. Bronson, who for twenty years has been numbered among the leading business men of this city, passed away at one o'clock Monday morning at his home at 121 South Pelham street. Mr. Bronson's death was due directly to a stroke of apoplexy which he suffered thirty minutes before. This was his third stroke, the first occurring one year ago and the second at four o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Although it was known that Mr. Bronson's health was not of the best his condition was not regarded as serious and his demise came as a sad surprise to his innumerable friends throughout the city. Since his illness of a year ago he appeared to be gradually improving and was in the best of spirits. At three thirty o'clock Saturday afternoon he complained of feeling ill and was obliged to leave his store duties and go home. He shortly after was stricken with apoplexy and gradually grew weaker until the final stroke brought the end. So sudden was his death that his family and physicians could scarcely believe that he had breathed his last.

Charles Dutton Bronson was born at Wheaton, Ill., November 23, 1813. At the age of 17 years he enlisted with an Illinois Company in the Civil war. Later at Fort Douglas he became captain of the 123rd Illinois Volunteers, a company that was organized by himself. After the war Mr. Bronson moved to Big Rapids, Mich., where he engaged in the banking business with his father. In 1869 he was united in marriage at Wheaton to Miss Alvira Jayne. Two children blessed this union, Mrs. D. after the tragedy. R. Thomson of Ashland and C. C. Bronson of Seattle, Wash. Twenty years ago the Bronson family came to Rhinelander and Mr. Bronson engaged in the news, stationery and confectionery business which he successfully conducted until his death.

Mr. Bronson was a good citizen and was held in high regard among his friends and business associates. He was known by nearly every man, woman and child in the city and will be greatly missed. His wife and two children survive.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from St. Augustine's church under the auspices of the Masonic order, deceased having been a Knight Templar. Father Johnson officiated and was assisted by Father Vaughan of Merrill. All business places in the city were closed during the services.

The remains, accompanied by D. R. Thomson, were taken to Milwaukee last night for cremation.

C. C. Bronson of Seattle, Wash., was unable to be here for the funeral but will arrive in the city next Monday.

PHYSICIANS IN SCHOOLS

"The day is not far distant when even small communities will as soon think of running a school without making provisions for instruction in preventive medicine as they would of running it without a principal," declares Dr. George B. Young, public health commissioner of Chicago, in a bulletin recently published by the extension division of the University of Wisconsin.

"The vision, the hearing, the speech of pupils, their physical deformities, their mental defects, their nutritional status, all have come to be matters requiring attention by medical inspectors of schools, and justifying correction at the expense of the community if the circumstances make it necessary. We have at last come fairly to understand that if the child is unfitted for general school conditions we must fit the conditions to the child, and so have arrived at the school breakfast, the open air school for the tubercular, and the like."

WEDDING THIS EVENING

One of the most notable society events in the history of the city will be the wedding of Miss Mae Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Browne, and R. F. Johnson, will perform the ceremony and the bride will be given away by her father, Mrs. Jessie Hampton will preside at the organ and Charles Foster Smith, Jr., will usher.

ARBOR VITAE BOY DROWNS SUNDAY

Fred Brayback Swims After Row Boat And Is Stricken With Cramp

Arbor Vitae was the scene of a sad accident Sunday evening when Fred Brayback, twenty-four years of age, lost his life by drowning.

Mr. Brayback was fishing in a lake near the village. He was cast from the shore and had his row boat tied near by. The little craft became unfastened and commenced to drift away. In hope of getting the boat before it went too far from shore the young man swam after it. He was stricken with a cramp and sunk beneath the waters before assistance could reach him. The body was recovered soon after the tragedy.

The victim was the son of one of the old employees of the Yawkey-Bissell Company and was a favorite in Arbor Vitae. The accident has caused general grief in the village.

ASSAULT FOLLOWS QUARREL

August Booth Is Wanted For Attacking Andrew McNabb

A warrant was issued today for the arrest of August Booth, a Malvern farmer, charged with assault with the intention of doing bodily harm. Booth is alleged to have attacked Andrew McNabb, a neighbor Monday night, and to have hit him with the butt of a revolver. McNabb was brought to the hospital in this city. He is suffering from a painful scalp wound but is not in a serious condition. He is very weak from loss of blood.

The assault took place in Booth's house and was the result of a quarrel. After the attack upon McNabb, Booth disappeared and is still at large. The officers expect to experience no trouble in locating him and causing his arrest.

The income tax board of review for Marinette county, which has just finished its first session, finds that almost no farmers in the county are affected by the new law. Much of the opposition to the law is said to have come from the farmers in the belief that the law would affect them greatly. The board of review found that in nearly every instance where the farmer's income was taxable under the income tax, that there was a sufficient offset on the amount of personal property tax paid by the farmer.

It was the most serious storm that this part of the state has experienced in years.

Lehner For Attorney General

The Enterprise doesn't propose this year to do much unpaid for political hymn singing over the candidacies of the men. But its editor gained personal acquaintance recently with Phillip Lehner, who is seeking the Republican nomination for attorney general, and that acquaintance gave birth to a personal liking.

In addition to that, we know that he made good record as district attorney of Green Lake County, exceptionally good record; and we know, too, that he has proven his worth as "special legal advisor" to Governor McGovern. We speak for Mr. Lehner the support of our republican readers in the September primary. His nomination and election would, we believe, be a good thing for the state. —Editorial, Wittenberg Enterprise.

BADGER CROPS GOOD
Prof. Ransome A. Moore of the agricultural college of the university has just returned from a tour of northern Wisconsin.

"Recent cool weather was just the thing needed," he said. "It made it possible for small grains to head out better than they have for several years. And there ought to be the weight to the grains that has been lacking for several years." That the corn crop would come near setting a record in Wisconsin that it was free from rust and free from the army worm was stated by Prof. Moore.

PENNINGTON IS SCORED BY FREAR

Secretary of States Makes Warm Reply To President Of Soo Line

In an address delivered at Knapp, Wis., recently by Secretary of State Frear, he devoted a considerable part to a reply to President Edmund Pennington of the Soo road. The Soo executive recently aroused the state by a statement that his road "was through with Wisconsin" and that the pernicious activities of the politicians here made it impossible for the railroad corporations to secure any measure of justice.

Secretary Frear made special reference to the progressive laws adopted in Wisconsin and commented caustically upon Pennington's protest. After praising the railway commission law and the personnel of the commission Secretary Frear said:

"Until recent years the state did not interfere with stock-watering propositions or poor business methods but under the present law no more exploitations like the Wisconsin Central venture will occur to embarrass innocent stockholders and vex the public. This road, with all its inherited obligations, has been taken over by the Soo railway. With poorer equipment and poorer general facilities than any other large road, it is significant that the capitalization on which the Wisconsin Central was seeking to make earnings was $67,625 per mile, compared with $47,575 per mile for the Northwestern railway. In other words, with an actual value of possibly two-thirds that of the Northwestern railway per mile the Central was capitalized at nearly 50 per cent. more, and on that fictitious capitalization the president of the Soo road complains because he is unable to make reasonable earnings."

"During the six years ending 1910, 1,441 miles of new road and sidings were constructed in Wisconsin, or 13 per cent. of the total trackage. Of this amount, the Soo built only 44 miles, whereas the Wisconsin Central built 204 miles."

Says State Has Been Generous
"Wisconsin has been generous with the railways operating in this state. It gave the railways over 3,000,000 acres of land with which to help build their roads. It gave the Wisconsin Central (Soo Line) 775,000 acres, or practically 1,000 acres for every mile of its railway in the state today. The Soo railway now owns over 400,000 acres of this land grant, as I am informed, which, at $10 an acre a nominal figure, would build a couple of hundred miles of railway similar to that which the Central formerly possessed and would build thousands of wooden awnings and small depots with which to afford protection to the passengers who support the road. It would build several hundred miles of sidetrack with which to enable private shippers to meet the competition afforded by more favored shippers, and the remainder of the land grant would enable the Soo railway to remember that an unreasonable railway president does not always have the final determination in matters of railway construction, service or rates."

LOCAL LUMBER MARKET

C. P. Crosby speaks of the lumber situation in this city as follows:

"Prices on hardwoods as well as on hemlock and pine continue to strengthen, as the scarcity becomes more apparent. Hardwoods are especially affected in this way, as holders here and there begin to advance prices on items that are scarce. At the same time there is no weakening on stocks that are in good supply, because everyone believes that no matter how much there is now it will all be needed, and more, too, before new stock can be secured. Conditions are favorable for summer logging. Preparations will be made for an increased cut, but it must be remembered that there are fewer mills this year, and that no matter how much the increase is it can not make up for the mills that have dropped out of business."

DON'T BELIEVE EVERYTHING YOU HEAR

The chap up in the picture there, believed when he heard the "honk," of an old gander behind him, that he was about to be smashed in the back by an automobile. The result spelled disaster to his pail of milk.

The expenses at the County Training School have greatly increased. If this is not perfectly satisfactory kindly let us hear from you, otherwise, we shall expect you to pay $25.00 per month for the nine months school year, 1912-13. AUGUST 15, 1912.

We meet and converse with a great many farmers and laboring men, but we do not know one farmer or laboring man who will vote for Taft. If Taft can hold the "Taft Republican" vote in Lincoln county, which is about 300 votes, he will do well. Since the crime committed in Chicago, stealing the nomination, we doubt very much if Taft will be able to hold all the original Taft votes in this county.—Merrill Herald.

After this issue it will be necessary for all candidates to pay up all past accounts and all notices to be run in advance. Political bills are due in advance. If you wish your notice run the next two weeks before the primaries, pay for them in advance.

President LeConte of Hayti and one hundred of his advisors were killed by an explosion at the Hayti capital a few days ago. It is denied that it was a plot but some think so. The Haytian authorities say it was caused by an explosion from improper ventilation.

We have no patience with Roosevelt's trying to play the tyrant. Where is there anything gained to the progressive cause by attempting to force candidates to tie to him on an independent ticket? While we believe he is a better progressive than Taft, he is a queer mixture of progressivism. The chief feature of the new party is that it is a Roosevelt party.

The notorious New York boss and grafter, William Barnes Jr., is to be at the head of the Taft campaign executive committee, most appropriate indeed. It was Barnes who put over the nomination for Taft through the contested delegates at Chicago. We are glad that Alfred T. Rogers of this state refused to act on this committee. How could a self respecting progressive?

Emmanuel L. Philipp, the notorious tory on the one side and Baker and Cochems of the Bull Moose faction on the other are trying to scare Governor McGovern into declaring for Taft on the one side and Teddy Roosevelt on the other. Governor McGovern is a republican and should not pay no attention to these two factions. Such threats weigh little with voters except to disgust them with the methods used to coerce candidates into open declarations.

ASTOR HEIR ARRIVES

Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, survivor of the Titanic disaster, in which her husband, the late Col. John Jacob Astor, lost his life last April, gave birth to a son at 8:15 yesterday. The new arrival has been named John Jacob Astor after its father. The baby becomes a direct heir to $2,000,000 of the Astor fortune. The baby at birth weighed seven and three-quarter pounds and will be the fourth of the line to bear the name John Jacob Astor.

FEEL NO EVIL EFFECTS

The carnival has come and gone and as well as can be learned there has been no evil effects felt from it. Although the weather was bad the public enjoyed the attraction immensely, as it furnished good, wholesome amusement which was both entertaining and interesting. While the management did not complain on the business in this city it is believed that the company left as much money here as it received. One fact which was generally commented upon was the clean, gentlemanly conduct of all the people connected with the company. A more orderly traveling aggregation has never visited Rhinelander. From the arrival until the departure of the show there was no foul language or disorder. Not one arrest was made during the entire week.

The public must have recreation and fun and no harm can be seen in a carnival of this kind. One cannot expect to keep a fence around the town all of the time.

NEW DIRECTORY READY

The new directory of the city of Rhinelander and Oneida county compiled by Douglas Anderson was received from the printer Tuesday and is being distributed. The book is a valuable one as it contains the names and addresses of all the residents and business firms of the city and county. It was carefully prepared and appears to be accurate and reliable. The book is almost double the size of the last directory issued in 1905 and is neatly printed and bound.

"PLAIN CITIZENS"

Men are going about to get the people to organize clubs against the income tax law—to organize against themselves. If the every day citizen will stop to think, he will feel insulted by the solicitation of these Tory promoters. It contains an assumption that he lacks intelligence to understand the situation. The interests that organized the present campaign are the same selfish interests that fought every reform that has been adopted in Wisconsin or that has been proposed in the nation. They count always to keep on fooling Lincoln's "plain people" into doing their jobs for them.

The income tax law is designed to afford some relief to the less fortunate citizen by making men pay taxes according to their ability to pay. Some men of wealth who are selfish and intolerant of the rights and welfare of others object to such a rule and demand that it shall be repealed. They insist that you, Mr. Citizen, shall do this for them even before the law passed in your own interest and upon your orders given through the ballot box, has had a single trial.

If legislation designed to promote the cause of social justice is to be thus unthinkingly disposed of by the very citizens whom it would help how are we ever to get such laws? This is the fight of the "plain citizen." If you let your enemies organize you into clubs to repeal measures for your own relief, measures which you yourself have asked for, the loss falls upon you. More still, in the present instance you will have to take an active interest yourself in your own cause, if you are not to be whipped.

Find out for yourself who is working to repeal the income tax law, and then ask yourself why.

NEW T. R. EXPOSE BY LA FOLLETTE

Senator LaFollette is putting the finishing touches to his autobiography, which will be issued in book form in about a month, according to Summer Curtis, writing for the Chicago Record-Herald. He has added three or four chapters to the story of his political career that ran for several months in one of the magazines.

The magazine story ended with the last congress. The new chapters tell the story of Mr. LaFollette's campaign for the presidential nomination and down to and including the national conventions of this summer, with some comment on the facts relating to the situation that has developed since the nominations were made by the various parties.

The revised autobiography will be on the market prior to the November elections. Close friends of the Wisconsin senator are anticipating some intimate details of the original unconnected and in use. We are told by a representative of the Rhinelander Lighting Company that we have been running their business the past two years and they are now able to run it themselves but we shall continue to protect the people from undue charges so long as we continue in the newspaper business.

However, we shall make it our business to interfere in any matter which affects the interest of the public which we attempt to serve.

A SHAMEFUL SPECTACLE

President Taft's veto, for the second time, of a bill reducing the duties on wool and woolen manufactures, is a proceeding hard to explain and still harder to justify. He may be acting from a sincere sense of duty, but it will be difficult to make the country believe it. People cannot have failed to notice the suggestive articles which have appeared in the Boston Herald and other protectionist newspapers, confidently predicting a presidential veto of any bill altering the wool duties and frankly connecting it with the exigencies of the campaign. The intimation was clear that the protected manufacturers demanded a veto as a condition precedent to campaign contributions. We do not say that this has been a motive with Mr. Taft but it has obviously been such in the minds of his managers. The veto will go before the country violently under suspicion that it was written for political effect.—New York Evening Post.

Mrs. Hugh Haskins and children will leave on their return to Imlay City, Mich., Saturday. On their way they will spend three days with Mrs. Haskins' mother, Mrs. J. Kennedy at Milwaukee. Mrs. Kennedy will be at that city and Chicago two weeks and on her return will bring a complete stock of new fall millinery.

LA FOLLETTE'S ATTITUDE

Everywhere except in LaFollette's home state and North Dakota Roosevelt was the choice of the Progressives, in the most instances where primaries were held by an overwhelming vote. Under these circumstances it does not appear like a wise course for Wisconsin alone to hold back and try to hinder the movement. Undoubtedly LaFollette's losing prestige in other states by his present attitude, and also in his own state, by showing bitterness on account of the choice of the great majority of the voters in the movement for which he has heretofore been such a powerful worker. He should now try to make his attitude less embarrassing to citizens who admire him for what he has done in past years.—Superior Telegram, Progressive Rep.

IMPORTANT BILL PASSES

The senate Friday passed the post-office appropriation bill carrying in the neighborhood of $100,000,000. The bill has established a parcels post and also permits employees of the postoffice department to organize provided they do not affiliate with any outside labor organization. The only change made in the bill after it was reported to the senate was an amendment providing that whenever post-office employees work overtime they shall be paid in time instead of money. Senator Smith, Georgia, endeavored to have parcels post provision reconsidered and some rates lowered, but failed.

Senator LaFollette made the sensational charge in the senate in discussing the above measure that his mail had been interfered with and opened by high officials in the Taft administration. We are glad LaFollette has the courage of his convictions. We wish more men were so brave.

PAY FOR WHAT YOU USE

Under the recent decision of the railroad rate commission, against the Rhinelander Lighting Company, a representative of the New North complained to the commission because the Rhinelander Lighting Co. charged for five horse power when we have but four and one-third. The commission notified the New North that the Rhinelander Lighting Company should charge for but four and one-third, a difference of fifty cents per month, also notified the Light Company to this effect. After the first one horse power, the initial charge should be for the exact horse power used on a fractional basis.

The commission also states that the Rhinelander Lighting Company should be charged by the company for the lamps below a small amount for the lamps below sixteen candle power as it charges more for lamps of larger size.

The commission also says if any part of a system of lamps is cut off on the market prior to the November elections and out of use and the company is informed to this effect the company should only charge for those connected and in use.

We are told by a representative of the Rhinelander Lighting Company that we have been running their business the past two years and they are now able to run it themselves but we shall continue to protect the people from undue charges so long as we continue in the newspaper business.

However, we shall make it our business to interfere in any matter which affects the interest of the public which we attempt to serve.

AGAIN SHOWS HIS HAND

For a second time within a year President Taft has vetoed a wool bill reducing the tariff on woolen goods the infamous schedule K of the Payne-Aldrich, Taft tariff bill. While the recent bill is the same as the one the president vetoed a year ago, his reasons given are entirely different. He had to study up another excuse. Mr. Taft says he is afraid for the wool grower and the manufacturer. This is the same Taft who tried to put through the atrocious Canadian reciprocity bill which failed to protect the farmers of the northwest at all. President Taft was looking to protect the selfish wool manufacturer as he has boosted for the special interests during his entire term. He has been a tool of the big corporations since his inauguration. What can we expect of him in this?

BOARD OF REVIEW MEETS

The board of review of the city of Rhinelander, consisting of Mayor Braeger, J. M. Baker, Gust Swedberg and F. Patterson, is in session at the city hall. L. A. Leadbetter, a member of the board, is absent owing to illness.

DEPOT IS OPEN

The new passenger depot of the Soo line in this city was opened to the public today when trains 7 and 8 made their first stops there. The depot is one of the most substantial and up-to-date along the entire Soo system and a credit to the city.

REBUKE FOR TAFT

The Underwood-La Follette wool bill was passed over the President's veto by the House Tuesday afternoon. The Democrats think a notch has been added to their record stick by this achievement—the first "rebut" of the kind administered to President Taft in connection with a major proposition by either house of Congress. Republican absenteeism in the senate could effect the passage of the measure in spite of the executive disapproval. The vote in the House on passing the bill over the veto was 174 to 80. Ten members voted present. A two-thirds majority is necessary to pass bills disapproved by the President. In this case twenty-one Republicans (insurgents) voted with the Democrats.

Crowds Have Come

From miles away, the past week, to listen in wonder to the remarkable words of TRUTH and WISDOM that fall from the lips of this gifted SEER and interpreter of things hidden.

Prof. NELLAR THE GREATEST CLAIRVOYANT ON EARTH

By Public Request he will continue his reduced fees a few days more

LOW FEE 50c.

It makes no difference what your past experience with Clairvoyants has been, Prof. Nellar will treat you honestly—He will tell you just what you want to know; just what is best for you to do and how to do it at the right time and in the right way; he will tell you how to do things better than you have ever done them before; how to eliminate errors, to develop resources, to recognize no impediments, to master circumstances and how to obtain absolute success in any undertaking or make no charge for his time.

Without asking a question he tells your name, age and prospects for the future.

If you are in doubt, worry or trouble of any kind; if your heart is set on a certain end in friendship, love, marriage, divorce or business, or if you are not satisfied with life and another shares that which rightly belongs to you, don't lose faith because SELF-STYLED CLAIRVOYANTS have imposed upon you. BUT TRY ONCE MORE and begin all over again by consulting PROF. NELLAR, a gentleman whose education, power, ability and mastery of OCCULT FORCES are recognized the world over, by press and public alike. Remember, there would be no counterfeits if there were no genuine. His work is his religion, built upon the solid rock of TRUTH and HONOR. He feels it, it comes by presentment, by instinct, by inspiration, through all the senses of his susceptible and impressionable nature. He brought happiness, health and fortune to thousands all over the world, whose hopes were crushed with trouble, sorrow or misfortune, and he will do as much for you. Trouble and misfortune are no respecters of persons; they gnaw at the hearts of the rich and the poor alike.

You must COME to him sincere and honest or he will not advise or help you.

FLASHES FROM THE HEADLIGHT

Bits of News Pertaining To The Soo and Northwestern Railroads

The Soo railway company has just added a number of monster locomotives to its rolling stock in anticipation of the work it will have to do in handling the great grain crop in the west this fall. It is predicted there will be a shortage of 80,000 cars necessary to handle the crops.

More than five thousand persons were killed last year while walking on the railroad tracks. It is a most dangerous practice and should never be done even if it does offer a short and convenient road.

Over three quarters of a million dollars in railroad taxes was received by the state treasurer Friday. The largest check came from the Northwestern railway, the amount including the taxes of the Sparta division, the total being $626,406.51; the Omaha road paid its full assessment of $167,688.45; the Milwaukee road completed its payment with a check for $34,940.06, the Stanley, Merrill & Phillips road paid $1,150.53; Wisconsin & Michigan, $1,663.02; Dunbar & Wausaukee $25.63 and the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern $2,355.95.

Sixteen head of choice dairy cattle were struck and killed by a Soo line passenger train near Gladstone a few days ago. The carcasses were badly mangled beneath the wheels and it was two hours before the train could proceed on its way.

Another opportunity for our people to boost the farming possibilities of this locality is offered by the Soo Railroad Company in their Educational Exhibit to be held at Minneapolis, November 12th to 23rd. This exhibit will consist of the products grown along the Soo Line. The Railroad Company will reserve space for us providing the farmers show sufficient interest to make a good exhibit. No charge will be made for transportation of exhibits. This is an exceptional opportunity and should be taken advantage of.
